Children were piled in on their parents; men and women, who but a few hours previous were utter strangers, now in the very despair of their helplessness, made common cause, and humanity, irrespective of sex, courted the drowsy god—oblivious of present woe in sleep—packed "heads and tails," like good Scotch herrings. Each of the eight nights during our sojourn was but a facsimile of the picture thus drawn. The facilities for cleanliness may be imagined—the filth heggars description. It is really a miracle that gaunt disense did not lay his beavy hand on us. The provisions, in their original state, were, doubtless, all good, but the cultinary efforts verified the old adage in respect to the paternity of cooks. The bed, table linen, and furniture, were fiithy; the servants had no time for cleanliness, in consequence of the multiplicity of their duties.

Disgusting and repulsive as the subject is, can not fail rendering a description of the exterpation of the great evil by all lawful and christian means"—Is producing a tempest of excitement in the two Baltimore Conferences comprising fortions of Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

I have before me three numbers of the Baltimore Christian Advocate, edited by Dr. T. E. Bond, whose columns are nearly filled with editorials, communications and resolutious on the subject, most of which condemn the "new chapter," and look to a separation of the churches in the territory referred to from the Methodist Episcopal Church.

A proposition made in the Advocate, immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, to call a Convention of Laymen and Clergy to consider the question of a separation seems to meet with general favor. The editor favors it. Communications from leading members and ministers approve it, and resolutions adopted by circuita, stations and quarterly conferences, cordially indorse it. As specimens of the sentiment prevailing, I make the following quotations: Rev. W. S. Edwards, Christiansburg, Va., writes: "The unanimous sentiment in my own charge, and in the adjoining circuits and stations, is in favor of separation, and as soon as possible, from the M. E. Church in the United States. "There is a settled determination not to live under it (the Discipline).

"One of the best informed and most influential titizens of this community, not a member but a supporter of our church, said to me in substance, a few days ago: "If your Conference does not purge itself from its now undoubted abolition connection, you can not operate, and are not worthy to be trusted on Southern soil. So say numbere!"

John F. Pethridge, of Calvert Gounty, Md., closes a communication by saying the Maryland Methodists "would prefer remaining in the old Baltimore Conference, if, in this crisis she assumes a position to which they can unblushingly appeal. But if she declines thus acting it will only be necessary for the Church South to send her men over, and in less than two years they will have underly Disgusting and repulsive as the subject is, I can not fail rendering a description of the method pursued by the steward's department, in their efforts to make a short allowance of in their efforts to make a short allowance of glass, crockery and cutlery do duty. I verily believe that from the day we left New York to the day of our arrival, not one drop of water was consumed therein. After a meal the platters were carefully scraped (for the slush is one of the steward's perquisites) and then piled up. Men-armed with soiled table cloths and towels (from the wash-stands) then rubbed off the debris. Glasses were returned to the racks innocent of cleansing, and knives and forks were merely wiped off. Before at sea two days the filth could be scraped off of each utensil; but use is second nature, and one may come to fancy filth as an appetizer, especially if one travels on Vanderbilt's steamers.

Woman and Michelet.

The Boston Courier which is edited, as has been said, by semi-intellectual idiots, gives the following summary of Woman, as analyzed by Michelet in his new book:

A pair of rosy lips is chiefly significant as the natural barrier of a set of bones which are in constant need of the dentist's care; and the husband's kiss must be bestowed with caution, lest perchance some disorder incident to the feeling of very small children may render it unpleasant or painful. A beautiful woman is a bundle of feminine diseases, combined in mysterious complication beneath a fair exterior. Her progress from infancy to maturity is described as a lockey describes the growth of a horse. She is an animal of fine texture, which, though gifted with speech, usually remains silent, uncomplaining, suffering, in the presence of that great, rough, coarse, tyrannical creature, man, who uses her to abuse her, and then throws her away like a squeezed orange.

action of the late General Conference, and declars it to be unconstitutional and oppressive, and that we will not submit to it."

At a meeting of nineteen "pastors of churches in and around Baltimore City," resolutions were adopted expressive of confidence in the Baltimore Conference adhering to a resolution meet a hold convertion with the conference of the conference o The execution of Nathaniel Harten for the murder of Melissa Morris, took place at Moundsville, Marshall County, Virginia, on Friday. Harten ascended the scaffold slowly, but firmly, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Richmond and other clergymen. When the condemned man beheld the scaffold, the little blood in his face disappeared, his eyes seemed to sink suddenly deeper into his head, and he seemed almost instantly to lose one-third of his ficesh. This lasted but a short time, and, becoming seated upon the scaffold, assumed the old dull, morose appearance, which has characterized him ever since the first day of his arrest. Rev. Mr. Richmond then offered up a prayer in behalf of the condemned man, in which he intimated that he (Harten) had experienced a change of heart, and hoped for Divine forgiveness. The rope was then adresolution "not to hold connection with any ecclesiastical body which makes non-slaveecclesiastical body which makes non-slaveholding a condition of Church-membership."
A writer in the Bockingham (Ya.) Register closes his communication thus: "Must we still live objects of suspicion to our nearest neighbors, because of our connection with a church which openly avows itself the most effectual abolition organization on earth, and blasphemously proclaims itself commissioned of God to banish from America an institution tolerated by the founders of Methodism and the purchasers of our liberty? I answer, No! Already the toesin of war has been sounded. The standard of revolt has been raised." Divine forgiveness. The rope was then adjusted about his neck, the cap drawn over his eyes, Sheriff Reed pulled the trigger of the trap, a dull sound was heard, and the next moment Harten was swinging in the air. He drew himself up twice or three times in violent struggles, but was soon motionless and lifeless.

notionless and lifeless. Among the many persons who pressed prominently upon the line of soldiers surrounding the scaffold, before the drop fell, was the father of the murdered girl, Morris, who was very much intoxicated, and so clamorously eager for the awful scene, that it was with difficulty he was restrained by his neighbors.

The editor of the Baltimore Christian Advocate, himself a warm advocate for a separation from the M. E. Church, being fully persuaded that the separation will occur without the churches in the Conference being divided, expresses himself, in his issue of the 30th ult. in the following manner:

"The great danger is passed. The lion we so much feared is chained. The cloud has been dispersed, and, though we are bounded by a marrow horizon, all within it is clear and smooth. We shall not be broken to pieces. The unity of the churches within the Baltimore Conferences will be maintained. Wherever we go we will go together. The difference of opinion among us is not serious in kind or extent. There are a few who approve the action of the General Conference; but, so far as we know, they might hold a mass meeting in an omnibus, and give seats to spectators. Even these few approve the action only because they construe it differently from others.

For the present we congratulate our readers, and we thank God that we are in no danger of division among ourselves." THE "BRAUTIES" OF THE LATE JAPANESE BALL IN NEW YORK.—A ticket to the Japanese ball, in New York, sold for $50. It was afterward raffled off for $75. Some three thouward raffled off for $75. Some three thousand spurious tickets were out, and the holders were a hard looking "set," but enjoyed every thing amazingly—the sonp-flat men and rag-pickers, among them, particularly. The Express says the scrambling at the supper table was awful, and the waiters were not only impertinent but extortionate; for instance, a man asked for an ice-cream for his lady—the reply was "I don't care a — for you or your lady, give me a quarter, sar." The quarter was paid and the article was sometimes forthooming and sometimes not. "Bring me a bottle of wine," said another. The "Sambo" whom he addressed had several bottles in his hand. "Half a dollar, sar!" was the response, and unless dollar, sar!" was the response, and unless that half dollar was paid there was no wine New York city, it will be seen, preserved its

The traveling season is now over, and woe detide any luckless voyager who has loitered upon the road. Relentless fevers, which unseat the mind, will be almost sure to catch the hindmost. For the last few weeks the Americans have been scampering to the seacoast as tapidly as their Arab steeds can learry them, to make sure their escape to Constantinople of Greece. A greater number of our countrymen have visited Syria this year than at any previous time—and now there remains but one party in the interior, and these gentlemen will avail themselves of the next French steamer.

An American, Mr. Riggo, of New York, has been ill for some time between Jaffa and Jerusalem, but has now sufficiently recovered to leave the country; while one or two English travelers now lie iii in Mount Lebanon, beyond the reach of medical aid. Exposure to the sun in Syria after the middle of May is a very dangerous experiment, and I desire to warn my countrymen of the fact.

Two parties of American travelers have been attacked during this season; no great damage was done. A few weeks ago the American community was startled with an account of an attack by a party of Bedouins upon an American composed of eleven gentlemen and five ladies, near the Dead Scalit was reported that the ladies were placed in the center of the encampment, and the gallant gentlemen rallied around them with their revolvers, and, exchanging two or three hundred shots, drove the Bedouins across the Jordan. Upon the arrival of this heroic band in Beirut, it was ascertained that the story had lost nothing by ventilation and travel in this Oriental clime. The facts in the case are these, and they indicate nothing to alarm those who may wish to visit the Holy Land.

The Convent of Mar Saba is situated about a day's journey from the Dead Sea, and overhangs the dark and sublimely dreadful ravine which suggested to the mind of the Psalmist 'the valley of the shadow of death.' As this is a Greek Couvent, no lady is admitted; and as there were five ladies in the company, two par

Soon, however, the true state of the case Soon, however, the true state of the case was understood, and all fears were allayed. The battle ended with a few wounds, not of a dangerous character; and there being a surgeon among the party, the wounds of the muleteers were soon dressed with a skill which quite astonished them, and filled their minds with new impressions of American greatness. One young American, a Mr. Seeley, of Ohio, shot himself in the finger during the affair, but the ball was extracted, and the wound did not prove a serious one. After peace was restored, the diamond rings were taken from the various boot-legs where they had been deposited for safe-keeping, and the watches were dug up from their hiding-places under ground. But the most amusing incident of the scene was the discovery of one of the couriers and a dragoman, crouch-places under ground. But the most amusing incident of the scene was the discovery of one of the couriers and a dragoman, crouching under the dining-table for safety.

The muleteers of another party of Americans were attacked near Damascus, but the baggage was protected, and the affair ended with the loss of two guns belonging to the muleteers. These guns, however, have since been recovered by Mr. Consul Johnson.

It may be that before another travelling season shall roll around, Russian arms may keep the country more quiet; but it is feared that the Lebanon will prove to its owners the Causasus of Syria, and every chief a Schamyl.

The present state of things in Mount Lebanon is not at all inviting. A few days ago, in the vicinity of Sidon, two Druses were killed by some Christians, and the friends of the slaughtered men, while performing the funeral ceremonies, killed three Christians and a priest, by way of revenge, to appease the spirits of the ghostly departed. This reprisal was immediately followed by an attack on the part of the Christians in the neighborhood, and resulted in the death of the mourning Druses, who were killed upon the spot.

HOBRIEL ACCIDENT—A WOMAN IMPALED DEON A BUGGY SHAFT.—Tuesday last, Mrs. Frederick Rosenberger, of Liberty Township, In this State, met with a borrible accident. in this State, met with a horrible accident. Her daughters were about to take a buggy ride, and when they started from the house their horse became unmanageable and ran away. Their mother was in the road, and unable to get out of the way in time, and horrible to relate, the shaft of the buggy entered the lower part of her abdomen ten or twelve inches, and, impaled on the shaft, she was carried some fifty feet and then hurled against the fence. There is no hope of her recovery.

NARROW ESCAPE OF A RAILBOAD TRAIN NARROW ESCAPE OF A RAILBOAD TRAIN PROG A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A few days since the Newton (N. J.) Express train—consisting of five or six cars loaded with passengers, narrowly escaped bring precipitated into the Passaic River, by running off the Newark bridge. The draw was opened to allow the passage of a vessel, and the proper signals shown; but the engineer, who has recently been placed on the road, failed to discover it. The conductor of the train saw the signal, and pulled the engineer's bell to stop. The order was promptly obeyed, but, not an instant too soon, for the locomotive was within six feet of the draw. was within six feet of the draw.

At a banquet given at Palermo, on the occasion of the armistice, Garibaldi proposed as a toast—"The Independence of Hungary," and, turning to his Adjutant-General, Col. Turr, said: "Friend, you were my guest at Como and Varese, and you are now my guest here; but, in January next, I will return your visit—at Pesth!"

REJOICING OVER A WIFE'S RETURN.-WIVES are such uncertain property that the pro-prictor of the Nixon House, at Alliance, in this State, celebrated the safe return of his spouse from a three weeks visit in Cleveland, one evening this week, by a grand illumina-tion, band of music, and free drinks at the bar. The event was enjoyed by the whole town, as were also several fights growing out of the occasion.

A MONUMENT TO GENERAL POTNAM .- A Sub scription has been opened in Boston for the purpose of raising money for a monument to the memory of General Putnam. It is expected the amount necessary will be raised with but little difficulty.

Washington, July 6.—The derangement of the California mails is likely to involve the Government in some serious difficulties, which have not been considered. Our postal treaty with England obligates us to bring the South American mails, which comes to Panama by the English steamers. It is known that Mr. Vanderbilt has issued peremptory orders not to carry that mail, or those from California, after June 30th; so that the foreign and California mails must remain on the Isthmus till some temporary or other arrangement can be made. In view of this exigency, it is proposed that several of the swiftest Government steamers shall be specially detailed for the service until the meeting of Congress. The Panama Railroad and Pacific Steamship Company are ready to extend their co-operation in such a movement, and the suggestion will be made in the Cabinet to-morrow. Mesars, Davidge and Hoodly, who represented the Pacific Steamship and Railroad corporations, have both disclaimed any sympathy or concert with Mr. Vanderbilt's scheme.

Propositions have been informally made to carry the mails by the San Antonio and other routes, but the transportation is considered in meseric services. THOSE IN WANT OF A GOOD SEW JOUVET & CO., Agents, my9-cm No. 72 West Fourth, up stairs $30. $30. $30. $30. $30.

Mr. Glies rode in among the attacking party, and, with the assistance of a half-breed interpreter, succeeded in inducing them to draw off. They declared their purpose to return and wipe out the Pawnee tribe. An express was immediately sent to Col. Charles May, commanding at Fort Kearney, for assistance, as under the treaty of September, 1857, the Government is bound to protect the Pawnees on their new reservation. The hostile expedition was fitted out west of Fort Kearney, for the express purpose of making war on the Pawnees. The Present Comet.—Prof. Bond, of the Cambridge Observatory, announces that the present comet is approaching the earth, though, owing to the strong moonlight, its low position, and its increasing distance from the sun, it is doubtful whether it will become very conspicuous to the naked eye. Through the large telescope, it presents an appearance curiously fike that of the great comet of 1858, on a reduced scale. The tall branches off in two streams from the nucleus.

A Country Boy Engaged in Forgery.—A remarkable case of forgery and fraud has just been discovered in the county of Oxford, Canada, perpetrated by a youth from the back woods, under the assumed names of Learney and Bernard, who, by a deed, and having it duly registered in Woodstock, succeeded in obtaining $350 on mortgage from the Hon. J. G. Goodhue, of London. The particulars of his transactions develope a degree of cleverness in rescality not often exhibited by unsophisticated country boys.
